Seeing Green

Feature green in your home to create areas of calm. Deep tones of green can create a dramatic backdrop for your room, whilst pastel tones can offer a relaxed and serene palette to help create your sanctuary. Softer shades of green may have a calming effect in large open spaces, particularly those rooms with an abundance of natural light. Find your own shade of green.

Perfect Blues

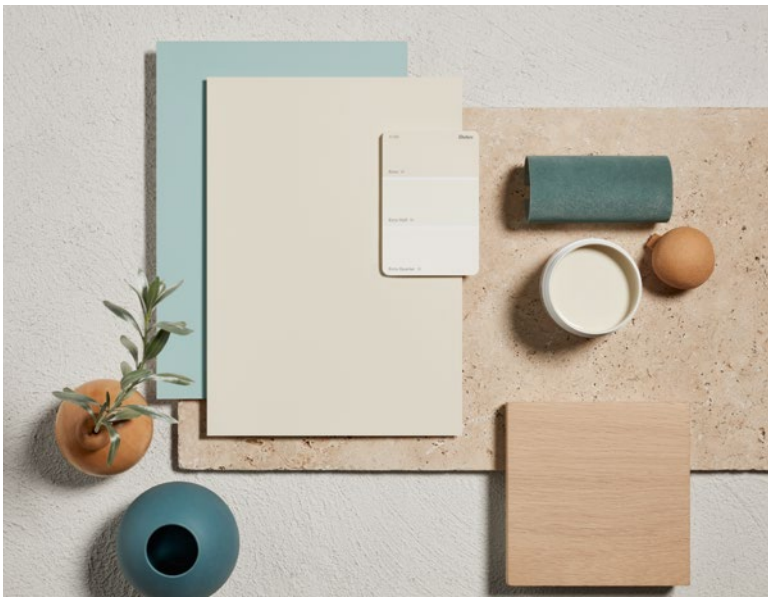

Known for their calming effect, soft shades of blue are perfect to increase the perception of space and enhance the contemporary styling in your home. Working with darker, inky blues creates a moody drama and sophistication. The beauty of blue is its versatility. Blue can be teamed with a wide range of colours, shades, textures and finishes. There's a blue for every occasion.

Broaden Your Horizons

Create a playful combination with colours and textures to add an inviting feel to your space.

Choose Your Colour

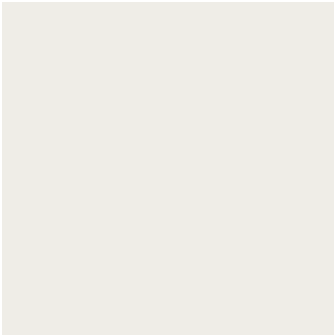

Select a neutral colour scheme as the foundation of your home expression. Warm neutrals provide a cosy backdrop for your personal style, whilst cool-toned neutral hues create a refreshingly simple and relaxed look.

Modern Neutrals

Using a neutral colour scheme inside your home is a sure-fire way to add depth and sophistication to your space. These tones provide flexibility to personalise your home with layers of other neutral shades or to introduce accent colours. Best of all, the look only grows richer with your own textured styling and furnishing. A neutral backdrop to create your style.

Golden Hues

The colour of sunshine never looked so good. Yellows bring vibrancy and warmth to create bright and happy spaces. Just because yellow is fun does not mean it can't be grown-up.

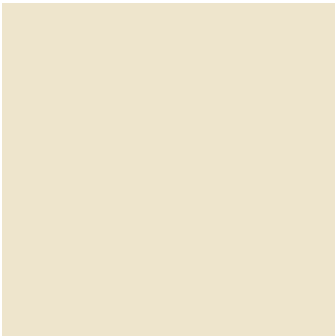

Golden hues of yellow, biscuit and caramel tones can lend themselves to levels of sophistication. Whilst pale buttery hues can offer a calmer welcoming environment. The colour of fun and sun.
